By ERNEST G. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate was called into an unusual Saturday session today with prospects for a crucial test vote by nightfall on President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution.

The test shaped up on an amendment to deny the President the authority he asks to spend up to 200 million dollars in available funds to strengthen the economies and security forces of nations in the area.

Administration forces regard this vote as a major hurdle. In advance of the session, the resolution's supporters expressed confidence the amendment would be rejected by at least 15 votes.

Defeat of the amendment would pave the way for adoption of the resolution by an expected wide margin, probably next week. The Senate has been debating the resolution for two weeks.

In addition to the military-economic aid feature, the resolution would declare a readiness to use American armed forces to block any open Communist aggression in the area, provided a nation under attack asks for such aid and the President deems such a step to be necessary.

As passed overwhelmingly by the House last month, the resolution contained the military-economic aid provisions.

Sponsors of the amendment aimed at stripping the military-economic aid provisions from the resolution are Democratic Sens. Russell of Georgia, Byrd of Virginia, Stennis of Mississippi and Anderson of New Mexico.

However, a number of Democratic senators, as well as many Republicans, are opposed to the amendment.

Sponsors of the amendment contend the 200 millions might be only the first installment on a much bigger aid program that they contend could run into billions of dollars. Secretary of State Dulles has sought to reassure them that this is not going to happen.

Mad Bomber Must Stand a Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — "Mad Bomber" George Metesky, although declared legally insane, must stand trial.

The 54-year-old Metesky, from Waterbury, Conn., freely admitted he planted 32 home-made bombs in New York City over a 16-year period. During this time he was supported by his two spinster sisters.

Arrested at his home Jan. 21, Metesky since has been undergoing mental examination at Bellevue Hospital.

In General Sessions Court yesterday the state sought to postpone a hearing in his case before Judge John A. Mullen.

Mullen ordered that Bellevue send someone to make an oral report to him.

Dr. John H. Cassidy, senior psychiatrist at Bellevue, said Metesky is schizophrenic split personality and also suffers from paranoia characterized by delusions of persecution and grandeur.

"He was so carried away by his mission that he wasn't cognizant of his actions," Cassidy told the court.

Said Judge Mullen: "This report has no immediate significance whatsoever. I have formed an opinion and the indications are that he is in such a mental condition that would enable him to plead and that any further adjournment of this plea would be of disservice to the community. There will be no harm to his rights."

Later, outside the court, Mullen told newsmen: "It is my opinion that he does know the nature and quality of his acts."

NEVER RETURNED
DETROIT (UP) — Mrs. Jean Priest has given up hope that her husband will return from the store.

She obtained a divorce yesterday after telling a judge that her husband went to the store in 1919 and never came back.

Nunn, Jr., of Hope who helped draft the bill.

Fresh Hollywood Story—Real Fantastic People

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) Hollywood always claims it is looking for fresh scripts about "people"—scripts with a true-to-life flavor that carry a warm human appeal.

All right, Hollywood let's test you. Here is a script that has everything you say you are looking for:

Once upon a time there is this tall, lanky Boy Scout who wears glasses, and is shy and awkward and so absent-minded that when he comes to a telephone pole he stops aside to let it pass because he is always polite and considerate of others.

Some people think he stutters, but he doesn't really stutter. He is just so struck with the moon-beam wonder of living that midway in a sentence he cages his mind because he has thought of something else to say. This makes him talk a bit puzzling.

He dreams of being an accordion player. He reads about Houdini and dreams of being a magician. He sees a movie of Martin Luther King and dreams of being a saint.

He reads about Charles Lindbergh flying the ocean alone, so he takes to building model airplanes.

"That boy Jim would do better to go to work in his dad's hardware store," say his neighbors in a town with the unlikely name of Indiana, Pa. "He don't know what he wants."

Instead Jim goes to Princeton University where, as thousands cheer—he's a cheerleader—he dreams of being an engineer, an actor, a stage boss.

"Jim's life goals are presently multidirectional," says his professors, which is their way of saying he doesn't know what he wants.

Well, Jim finally graduates—with a degree in architecture, his latest dream—and lands a job doing card tricks and playing an accordion in a New England tearoom. He does a few summer theater roles. Then he becomes a stage manager in Boston, and absent-mindedly rings down the final curtain on Miss Jane Crowl, who is playing "Camille," right in the middle of the famous death scene.

After Broadway, Jim goes to Hollywood, where his shy and gangling charm win him a quick buildup as "The boy who lives next to the girl next door."

The producers, who at first think Jim will be easy to push around because he is so polite and doesn't seem to know what he wants, are surprised to find he knows what he doesn't want—stereotyped roles. In 1940 he wins an academy award in "The Philadelphia Story," and tells an interviewer:

"Hollywood dishes out too much praise for small things. I won't let it get me, but too much praise can turn a fellow's head if he doesn't watch his step."

Jim saves up his money for a rainy day and soon has enough to land him through a century-long cloudburst. He buys a plane and learns to fly.

Half the famous dunes in Hollywood are dying to drag him to the preacher, but Jim likes the bachelor life with some old pals in a house full of mice, half a dozen dogs, 3 dogs and 17 cats.

House Defeats Exemption From Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The House today defeated 50-20 a Senate bill to exempt from the sales in certain items already exempt from the use tax. The state levies the use tax on articles purchased outside Arkansas.

Involved was certain equipment used in manufacturing and utility. Sponsors of the bill declared that present provisions of the two tax laws penalize Arkansas dealers. They said persons could purchase equipment outside the state and not have to pay a use tax on it, but that the sales tax would have to be paid if it were purchased inside the state. As a result, they said, the purchases are made outside the state.

Opponents declared that the proposed exemption would cost the state several million dollars a year in revenue. Proponents who said the amount of revenue being obtained is negligible.

Shortly after the vote was taken the House sent back to the Senate at that body's request a bill which would remove the use tax exemptions on the same articles which figured in the debate on the first measure.

The return was opposed by Rep. Ronnie Etheridge of Jackson County, who said that Sen. Robert Farver of Swiftsboro, author of the bill, wanted the bill to remain in the House.

The House overrode Etheridge's objection.

Laborites in Britain Win Second Time

LONDON (AP) — The opposition Labor party has won its second special election for a Parliament seat since the Suez Canal crisis. The Laborites held the seat before, but the vote showed a new and sizable swing away from Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservatives.

Results announced today for the voting at Wednesday in the Staffordshire pottery district gave Laborite John Stonehouse 22,255 votes to 9,999 for Conservative Peter Tapsell, formerly a member of ex-Prime Minister Eden's personal staff. Michael Wade, an independent who campaigned on the issue of the high cost of living, got 3,329 votes.

The voting came only two weeks after the Conservatives lost a seat to a Laborite in London's North Lewisham district.

Nixon Ranks Below British in Africa

ACCRA, Gold Coast (UP) — U.S. Vice-President Richard Nixon will rank well below British commonwealth dignitaries at Ghana's independence celebrations next week, although an alphabetical interpretation of protocol may bring him close to the Duchess of Kent.

Commonwealth dignitaries will take precedence over all "foreigners," who will be seated below them in alphabetical order. Even though Nixon is number two man in the United States he will rank as "foreign" in the protocol lists.

Spring Hill Church Conference Sunday

Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Spring Hill Church will convene Sunday, March 3 at Spring Hill Methodist Church with the Rev. Robert B. Moore bringing the message at 6:30 p. m. All officials of the five churches of the charge will be present, the Rev. H. A. F. Ault announced.

Construction Industry Is Thriving

NEW YORK (AP) — The construction industry roars into March still one of the liveliest items in the economy.

But builders are warned to watch the course of contract awards in the next few weeks to see whether the big industrial building boom is hitting its peak.

Washington now looks for industrial construction to rise about 5 per cent over 1956, a notable tapering off from the 30 per cent gain last year over 1955.

Demand for other types of construction — highways, schools and the like — will keep the supply of structural steel tight, and may delay some industrial building plans. Building costs went up 5 per cent last year and may rise 3 per cent more in 1957 — which also could affect business building plans. Higher costs of financing the expansion program could be another dampener.

Figure out this week show total construction contracts awarded in January were 4 per cent over the same month last year, with manufacturing companies chalking up the biggest gains.

This reversed a declining trend in the final months of 1956.

Commercial construction awards — office buildings, stores — also rose in January. Public works awards declined in January from year-ago levels. But a reversal of this is expected later in the year as school and road programs get under way.

Tight supplies of structural steel may hamper some building plans, the Association of State Planning and Development Agencies was warned by Department of Commerce officials at a Washington meeting this week. The officials added that the price of steel had moved up since last November more than the department had expected.

Injuries Fatal to Woman, Child

NEWPORT (AP) — A woman and a small child died at a hospital here last night of injuries received in a highway accident in which five other persons were hurt.

The dead were Mrs. Mabel Binning, 30, and 9-year-old Linda Simon, both of Newport.

The accident occurred Tuesday night when a car occupied by seven persons smashed into a truck parked on State Highway 17 near Weidon, about 20 miles south of here.

Others injured, all in the car, were J. P. Binning, 31, the dead woman's husband and the driver; his son James, 5; Jimmie Simmons, 28, and his 26-year-old wife Thelma, parents of the dead girl, and their son, Larry, 5. Of the four persons hurt seriously, one was removed from the critical list today.

State Trooper Bill Mena said the parked truck was owned by H. C. Williams, a Fitzhugh, Ark. Negro.

Representative Indicted for Bribe in Texas

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — James C. Cox, a member of the Texas House of Representatives, was indicted yesterday by the Travis County grand jury of "unlawful, willful and corruptly" agreeing to accept a $5,000 bribe from Dr. Howard Harmon.

Cox has filed countercharges against Harmon.

The 36-year-old Conroe, Texas, lawmaker was charged with agreeing to use his influence to kill a bill which, in effect, would have outlawed the practice of naturopathy in Texas. The indictment accused Cox of agreeing to accept the money from Harmon, of San Antonio, president of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians Association.

The grand jury action came while a Texas House of Representatives committee conducted its own investigation.

The indictment alleged that on Feb. 20 Cox agreed to accept the money with the understanding the "work of the said James C. Cox would be given and rendered to defeat the passage of HB274."

House bill 274 was a proposed act that would have outlawed the practice of naturopathy in the state.

The house committee heard two men testify Cox had said he never intended to keep the $5,000.

The business manager of the Conroe Courier, Bill Bradford testified "Jim Cox told me last Saturday morning that one of the nature doctors has offered him a bribe and he was going to accept it and turn it over to the proper authorities."

Fort Smith Must Pay 3c Sales Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill to require Fort Smith residents to pay the full 3 per cent Arkansas sales tax cleared the state Legislature today.

The state Senate voted 27-4 to remove Fort Smith from the border city tax exemption. The measure, introduced by Reps. John P. Belthel of Prairie and Jack Oakes of Woodruff County, previously was approved by the House and now needs only Gov. Orval Faubus' signature to become law.

Under present law, Fort Smith residents must pay only a 2 per cent tax since the city is separated only by state line from Arkansas, Okla. Oklahoma has only a 2 per cent sales tax.

Sen. Dan White of Fort Smith declared that Fort Smith merchants believe that removal of the exemption "will wreck their economy."

He said that there were three Oklahoma towns other than Arkoma which would take business away from Fort Smith.

The opposite stand was taken by Sen. O. Porter of Mulberry, a merchant himself. He said that retention of the exemption for Fort Smith would hurt a lot of Arkansas towns, including his own town and business.

Sen. Lee Bearden of Leachville, who called the bill up and served as the administration floor leader for Faubus tax measures — which included increasing the sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent, also spoke in favor of the bill.

Bearden said that if Fort Smith should not be required to pay the full tax it would cost the state one million dollars a year in revenue.

When the tax increase became effective Feb. 15, the state Revenue Department said that Fort Smith did not exempt Texarkana from the Arkansas tax.

Texarkana, straddling the Arkansas-Texas line, pays no sales tax since none is levied by Texas.

However, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett ruled that Fort Smith did qualify as a border city.

Faubus Against Any Teacher Bonus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill to give teachers a $70 bonus between now and June 30 "has no chance of my approval," Gov. Orval Faubus said today.

The governor previously had indicated that he did not favor the measure an today he made his stand more definite.

The measure, by Sen. Roy Milburn of Harrison was passed by the Senate yesterday and sent to the House. The bill allocates one million dollars from funds which will accrue from the increase of 2 to 3 per cent in the sales tax.

"There was never any indication that any of the money would be received by the teachers this year," Faubus said. "This is not a school program."

Israeli Could Pull Out Victoriously

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any announcement by Israel today that she will pull out of Egyptian territory may turn out to be a victory for Israel and a setback for the United States in its dealings with the Arabs.

Israel had refused demands by the United States and the United Nations to get out of the Gaza-Aqaba Gulf areas, unless guaranteed Egypt couldn't use either to harass Israel.

When the news broke that Israel was ready to announce her withdrawal, there still had been no public promises of guarantees by either this country or the U. N. Why then would Israel pull back?

Possibly because the United States, and other nations friendly to Israel, had given the latter pretty solid promises that U. N. troops would move into the Gaza and Aqaba areas to prevent Egyptian attack or blockade.

If true, this would not sit well with the Arabs, who had demanded the U. N. use sanctions to force Israel out of Egypt, without guarantees.

For weeks the United States—while talking up President Eisenhower's Middle East program for winning over the Arabs—had tried to pressure Israel into pulling back her troops.

This pressure was applied both by President Eisenhower in a national radio-TV talk Feb. 20 and by Secretary of State Dulles in public statements. The Israelis nevertheless held out for guarantees.

And the administration because of the reaction among friends of Israel at home and abroad, said less about pressure. Dulles talked intensely and almost incessantly with Israeli representatives.

The United States was on a kind of hook: If it didn't go along with the Arabs who wanted sanctions against Israel, it was in danger of alienating them just when Eisenhower was making his friendly gesture towards them.

But if it went along with sanctions—and as time passed it seemed less likely to—it would anger friends of Israel, both here in America and among American allies overseas.

Dulles rushed on with his diplomatic talks with the Israelis because of kind of off-again-on-again talk about the talks. But they seemed to be getting nowhere until Wednesday night.

Any attempt by this country and other friends of Israel to have U. N. troops protect Israel seems certain to provoke opposition from the Arabs, particularly Egypt.

But if Israel, through its powerful friends, is able to get what it wants—protection from Egypt—even without publicly stated guarantees, it will be a victory for Israel all the same.

This whole story, very fuzzy around Washington last night, needs a lot of explaining. It will probably unfold in the U. N.

Eisenhower and Dulles both have stressed reliance on the U. N. to settle international disputes. Yet the U. N. itself was forced into a back seat by the United States in its dealings with Israel.

The U. N. practically had to suspend operations and sail back immobilized while Dulles, here in Washington, tried to find a solution.

This is one more example of what seems to be a growing tendency among U. N. members to settle their disputes in huddles outside the U. N. Assembly chamber, which thus becomes merely a place where they announce the agreements they have made.

Soviet Craft Frees a Japanese Ship

TOKYO (UP) — The Soviet ice-breaker OB plowed through a 15-foot thick Antarctic ice pack today and freed the Japanese expedition ship Soya which had been frozen fast for 14 days.

Headquarters of the Japanese Antarctic expedition here said the Soya, with 119 crew members and scientists aboard, followed the OB to the open sea where it joined a second expedition ship, the Umikaka Maru and headed for home.

Coast Guard Chief Tatsujiro Shimase sent messages of thanks to the OB and the U.S. Navy ice-breaker glacier which was rushing to the Soya's aid from Melbourne.

Shimase notified the Chief of its help was no longer needed.

Later today he called on the Soviet and U. S. embassies to thank their governments personally for their help.

New Series of Lectures Start Sunday

Rev. Virgil D. Keeley announced today that Bishop Ivan Lee Holt would begin a new series of lectures at the First Methodist Church beginning with the 11:00 a. m. Services on Sunday and through Monday evening, March 4th.

Mr. Keeley said that this series of sermons will be under the master title of "The Reaffirmation of Personal Faith." At the morning services on Sunday morning, Bishop Holt will speak on "God, The Father, Does Care For You," and at the evening services, "Jesus Christ Does Save You."

Bishop Holt will conclude his stay in Hope with his final message, "The Holy Spirit Does Lead You On," at the evening services on Monday.

Rev. Keeley said: "We are certainly well pleased with the reception that the people of Hope and vicinity, have given Bishop Holt. He has preached to capacity crowds at each and every service. It is certainly a rare treat for our people to hear an outstanding speaker as Bishop Holt."

The Century Bible Class, the MYF Groups, and the Wesley Club is sponsoring the Sunday Programs and will appear as a group at these services. The morning service will begin at 11:00 a. m., and the evening service at 7:15 p. m. All services will be held at the First Methodist Church at the corner of 2nd St. and Pine Street, Hope, Ark.

Refugees to Observe World Prayer Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Plans for Hungarian refugees to gather with their American hosts in scores of communities in the nation to celebrate world day of prayer Friday, March 8, were outlined today by the National Council of Churches.

Special services in Hungarian will be conducted in some churches.

March 8, the first Friday in lent, is sponsored by the United Church Women in the United States as a day to unite all Christians everywhere in a bond of prayer for brotherhood and to present offerings for their worldwide mission projects.

The United Church Women is a general department of the National Council of Churches.

Readings and prayers will be said in more than 60 languages and 1,000 dialects in 145 areas on all the continents.

In the United States more than 25,000 communities are expected to participate. Plans call for residents to assemble in factories, power plants, department stores, schools, hospitals, chapels, homes, churches and cathedrals.

Violence in Capital of Indonesia

JAKARTA (AP) — Indonesia's capital seethed with potential violence tonight over President Sukarno's plan to abandon Western democracy in favor of an all-party regime headed by himself and including the Communists.

Communists thugs threatened Christians and Moslems with reprisals if they wiped away Red signs on fences and buildings urging support of Sukarno's proposal.

The Moslem parties promised retaliation with the weekend having begun for the overwhelming signs of Moslem population, observers at nightfall felt anything might happen. Some Chinese shopkeepers closed to avoid trouble. Troops with fold bayonets stood guard throughout the sprawling city of four million.

Triple Amputee Is Animal Trainer

HANNOVER, Germany (UP) — A triple amputee makes his debut as a leopard trainer here today.

Waldemar Keppeler, 24, who lost both feet and his right arm because of frostbite incurred during the war, appears on the stage of a local variety theater. He took up animal training at circuses to prove that his physical handicap need not force him into a life as a watchman or porter, he said.

Eden Improving in New Zealand

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (UP) — Former British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden is no longer confined to his sick bed and is taking short walks, an official report said today.

The report said Eden is "considerably improved in health" following a spell of fever which hit him enroute to his vacation here.

Reds in Korea Get New Soviet Planes

SEOUL, (UP) — The Communist North Korean Air Force is rapidly replacing its propeller driven aircraft with Soviet built modern jet planes, the Republic of Korea's vice-minister of Defense Kim Chong Kip said today.

Kim said the military buildup in the north is aimed at eventual Communist reinvansion of South Korea with a superior air force.

The bodies were discovered early today by Mr. and Mrs. Billy Cook who owned the home in which the tragedy occurred. The dead woman was Mrs. Cook's sister.

Wilkinson called the shootings double murder and suicide.

That, Hollywood, is the script. If you want to buy it, see Jimmy Stewart. He lived it.

Probers Told of Bribe by Oregon Labor

By ROBERT E. THOMPSON

WASHINGTON, (INS) — A Portland, Ore., pinball operator accused of paying $10,000 to a top Teamsters union official for membership to keep him in business denied today he ever met the labor leader.

Stanley G. Terry, whose talkativeness under questioning infuriated senators investigating labor racketeering, swore he did not go to Seattle to see the union man, West Coast Teamsters boss Frank W. Brewster.

Earlier, Terry said he knew he was headed for financial trouble when he was kicked out of the powerful union, whose leaders allegedly planned to monopolize pinball operations in Oregon.

Portland Gambler James B. Elkins testified Thursday that Terry had contact with Brewster through Harold (Hy) Goldbaum, of Las Vegas, and then paid Brewster $10,000 for reinstatement in the union.

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (INS) — Senate investigators promised disclosures today relating to "bribes or attempted bribes" in the Senate investigation of alleged racketeering in labor and industry.

A Portland, Ore., gambler James B. Elkins testified yesterday that Stanley Terry, another pinball machine operator, had told him he paid $10,000 to Frank W. Brewster, president of the Western Conference of the Teamsters Union, for an okay to resume pinball operations.

Earlier witnesses have said a combination of teamsters bosses, public officials and gamblers was trying to take over and expand gambling and vice operations in Portland in 1955.

Elkins testified he was a "silent partner" in the Acme Amusement Co., and that he and his partners got an agreement from the union which would prevent other operators from placing machines in taverns and other places.

It was testified Clyde Crosby, teamsters' agent, and taverns and bars to compel them to throw out the pinball machines they had and install only machines bearing Teamsters Union insignia. Deliveries of beer and other supplies were blocked unless they complied.

The subcommittee counsel has charged the Acme group wanted to put all other pinball machine operators out of business and leave the field open to Elkins and his associates.

Kennedy said he alleged $10,000 payment by Terry to Brewster got Terry's machines back in use again and "burst the bubble of Acme." It has been testified the "bake" in Portland alone was expected to exceed $250,000 a year and run many times that figure for all Oregon.

Brewster is under subpoena to appear next week.

Cotton Hearings Set March 12-14

An interesting program on Education and Vocations was given by Mrs. Vernice Hubbard at the Business and Professional Women's Club meeting held Tuesday evening at the Lawson Hotel.

The president, Mrs. Bess Gist, presided and Miss Elizabeth Francisco gave the invocation. Members voted to help in the Red Cross Drive.

Mrs. Lottie Rieff, Mrs. Marie Chamberlain, Mrs. Flora Pierce, Mrs. Robbie Wilson, Miss Fay Lomis, Marquette Avery, Mrs. Bess Gist, Mrs. Della Stewart and Miss Sue Martin gave interesting comments on their jobs.

The club will sponsor a chicken spaghetti supper at the Legion Hut March 22. Tickets will be on sale next week.

Brownie Troop 1 Meets

Brownie Troop 1 met on Monday afternoon at the Teen-Age Club for the regular meeting.

The Brownie made letter holders out of Brownie emblems for their mothers.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Gay Dickerson, to the fourteen members and Mrs. Kenneth Reaves and Mrs. Edwin Avery leaders.

Plans were made for the annual cookie sale that is held each year in conjunction with the Girls Dull as the unopposed candidate.

Another Marine Faces a Court Martial

By BEM PRICE

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (INS) — A 23-year-old sergeant at this Marine training center faces a summary court-martial today in the third of four scheduled trials of drill instructors charged with molesting recruits.

Sgt. Daniel J. Corey, of Somerville, Mass., is accused of striking two recruits and forcing a third to eat candy until he was nearly ill.

Corey is charged with striking Pats. Thomas Hayes, 19, of Lawrence, Mass., and George D. Toper, 20, of Watertown, N. Y., and of forcing Pvt. John J. Barone, 18, of Chester, Pa., to stuff candy into his own mouth.

If convicted by the summary court, Corey faces a maximum sentence of 30 days' imprisonment, a reduction in rank to private and a fine.

Two drill instructors were convicted Tuesday on mistreatment charges.

Sgt. Clinton L. Jones of Pensacola, Fla., was convicted by a summary court-martial of hitting Toper Jones was ordered confined for 30 days, reduced in rank to private first class and fined $50.

Junior Play to Be Staged March 15

The Junior class play, "Come Out of the Closet," by Rollin W. Colye, will be presented at 1:15 p. m. and 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium Friday, March 15.

Three Ohio girls — eager, excited and hoping to establish careers in New York — are compelled by circumstances to rent an old, gloomy, run-down apartment from a miserly greedy landlady on their first night in town. And what a night it turns out to be.

The three girls are Hilda Hawkins, a stenographer, competent, forthright, and 25; Irene Gleason, fragile type, pretty, 20, and somewhat scheming; and Jenny Potts, winner of a television contract, eternally naive, 21, cute, and appealing. Irene's fiancée is intellectual and competent George Hanson. Jenny's boy friend is Hercules Jones, a one-time prize fighter and now taxi-cab driver, who is largely good-natured and brawn.

Mrs. Malone, the Irish, money-mad landlady, charges rent on a per person basis; but since the girls must pinch pennies, Hilda and Irene let Mrs. Malone believe there will be only two renters instead of three. Of course, Jenny will have to be smuggled in and out of the place; she will have to sleep on the couch; and when Mrs. Malone pays one of her many unexpected visits, Jenny will have to hide in the supposedly unused and locked mysterious closet from which shadowy figures slip from time to time.

Then there is Mrs. Malone's maid, Ammonia Mullins, who is 16 years old and not too bright. Directly across the hall lives Mr. and Mrs. Cutter with their week-old baby (probably the hungriest infant on record).

Like all poets, Guthrie Rosewater, probably the most modern of "modernistic" poets, has his muse—one Abbie Phillips, who seems like a nice sweet old lady and turns out to be not at all what she seems.

Officer Sweeney is the lamentably nearsighted policeman. The play is under the direction of Mrs. B. B. McPherson.

Unoccupied Hotels Destroyed by Fire

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (INS) — A spectacular, fast-moving fire destroyed two unoccupied hotels today and threatened for a time an entire city block of this Atlantic Coast resort.

The 150-room Columbia Hotel, one block from the boardwalk, was damaged beyond repair, police said.

The two hotels and rooming

DOROTHY DIX

Ex-Wife's a Widow Now and He Wants Her Back

Dear Dorothy Dix: When I returned home in 190 after two years or foreign service, my wife confessed that she was in love with another man and had been having an affair with him for some months. I loved her deeply and was ready to forgive everything, but she insisted on divorce.

Subsequently, I saw her on various occasions. She intimated that, were she given the same choice again, her decision would be different.

Now she has become a widow I still care for her and would be only too happy to have her as my wife if she would consent. I think she would. How long a time should I wait before I start dating her? I don't want to wait too long, as someone else may get the same idea.

Jonathan

Dear Jonathan: Since your inten-

Newsman Called in Texas Bribe Probe

AUSTIN, Tex. (INS) — Two news-men were called today to testify before a committee of the Texas House of Representatives investigating a charge that a House member conspired to accept a $5,000 bribe to withdraw a medical bill.

Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen, committee chairman, said the witnesses today would include Ed Watson and Bill Bradford of the Conroe (Tex.) Daily Courier. The newsman said the accused member, State Rep. James E. Cox, 36, of Conroe, told him he agreed to accept the money as part of a lobbyist trap.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock testified before the committee last night and said Cox conspired with him about the alleged bribe offer. Carr said Cox wanted to kill himself after admitting he agreed to take the bribe.

Earlier in a fearful speech before the House, Cox maintained he consented to accept the bribe in a plan to trap "crooked lobbyists."

Cox was charged after Dr. Howard Harmon of San Antonio, president of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians Assn., presented to Carr a tape recording of an alleged conversation with Cox in a hotel room here.

Dr. Harmon said he agreed to withdraw his bill that would, in effect, put naturopaths out of business in Texas Naturopathus use natural therapy in healing rather than drugs or surgery and are licensed under a statute that Cox's bill would have repealed.

house were closed for the winter. At least three firemen were slightly injured while battling the flames.

Thought For The Day

Opinion is the main thing which does good or harm in the world. It is our false opinions of things which ruin us. — Marcus Antoninus.

Shorter College In 71st
Founders' Day Convocation
On Tuesday, March 6, 1957

Bishop Hickman, Dr. H. D.
Greg guest speakers.
It has been announced by Dr.
Theophilus D. Alexander, President by Shorter College, that Bishop E. L. Hickman, presiding
Bishop of the 13th Episcopal District of the A. M. E. Church, elected at the General Conference held in Miami, Florida, will deliver the Founders' Day Sermon
Wednesday, March 6, at 10:00 a.
m. at Bethel A. M. E. Church,
909 Locust St., North Little Rock, Ark. Rev. P. H. Russell, Pastor, Music will be rendered by the College Choir under the direction of Mrs. Ruth W. Greene, Director of Music, Shorter College.

Also during the Founders' Convocation, the president, faculty, and students will present their Annual Founders' Observance Financial Project. The
'Miss Founders' Day Queen'
will be selected from the class reporting the highest amount of money over class quota.

Dr. Howard D. Gregg, President of Daniel Payne College, Birmingham, Alabama, will deliver the Founders' Convocation Address Wednesday, March 6,
at 7:30 p. m. in the College Auditorium.

On Tuesday evening, March 5, a play, in one act, will be presented by the Shorter College Dramatic Guild under the direction of Professor Crawford J.
Mims. The cast of characters will be Damon Brazwell, Joseph Barnes, John Haynes, and Mary Hampton.

Bishop Sherman L. Green, the Senior Bishop of the A. M. E.
Church and the presiding Bishop of the 12th Episcopal District embracing the States of Arkansas and Oklahoma, will be present at all the services and activities.

President Alexander announces that the public is cordially invited to attend all of the College's Founders' Observance services and activities.

Congratulations 4-Hers

The Observance of National 4-H Club Week, March 2-9, is an opportunity to salute the more than two million 4-H boys and girls who are taking important strides toward finer citizenship. Whether it be learning better care and operation of farm equipment or mastering a home making skill, 4-H members acquire initiative, responsibility and leadership.

We commend them for their dedication to the fourfold development of 'Head, Heart, Hands and Health' through the 4-H program.
There are 350 thousand Negro 4-H Club members in the United States, and 26,996 4-H Club members in Arkansas.

Obituary
Funeral service for Rev. Jack
B. Ford will be held Sunday,
March 3, at 2:00 p. m. at Boyd Hill Baptist Church. Burial in Boyd Hill Cemetery. Hicks Funeral Home, Inc., in charge.

Funeral service for Mrs. Ida
Ogden will be held Sunday, March 3, at 2:30 p. m. at St. Paul C. M.
E. Church, Washington, Arkansas.
Burial in Washington Cemetery.

Both would provide for sale of
the lands, but under one a 1, 800-acre tract in Saline County
would be transferred to the Arkansas sites.

The Senate or the governor now
will have to decide which bill
comes law.

The compromise bill for distribution of highway revenues among
the High Department, the counties
and the cities was passed without opposition and sent to the Senate.

No True Bills in Vote Fraud Probe

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A case involving alleged election irregularities in a West Memphis ward failed to yield a federal grand jury true bill here yesterday. The jury returned 58 indictments in other cases.

U.S. Dist. Atty Osro Cobb indicated the jury would take up the matter when the FBI finishes an investigation at West Memphis. A federal official said yesterday
"about 25" FBI agents were checking into the case.

The grand jury recently confiscated three ballot boxes in one ward at West Memphis. The probe began after the West Memphis Daily Sun reported that registration and actual voting figures in the ward for the November general election did not jibe.

McClellan calls himself "a country lawyer from Arkansas,"
and admits he likes his job as just
about the busiest senator-investigator ever to sit on Congress.

Not many attorneys and none of his colleagues is fooled much by
that self-deprecating "country lawyer" talk.

McClellan also heads the Senate's permanent subcommittee on investigations — a sort of group with broad powers to explore wrongdoing anywhere in the government. He was chairman of a special committee created to investigate lobbying and election campaign practices, now writing its report of findings. And he serves on the red-hunting Senate Internal security subcommittee.

He handles all this with seeming ease and still finds time to attend Senate sessions. In addition, his aides say he's a slicker for prompt handling of the heavy volume of mail that normally comes into senators' offices.

McClellan is taciturn, stern faced. He carries a courtroom attitude into hearings.

His state legislature had to pass a special law to let this "country lawyer" start practicing law. He was 17 when he passed the bar examination and the minimum legal age limit for lawyers in Arkansas was 21. He had started his legal studies at the age of 12,
in the offices of his lawyer father,
Isaac McClellan.

From a background as a country prosecutor, McClellan won election to Congress in 1934, served two terms in the House, and was elected to the Senate in 1942, 1948 and 1954.

There's an old story that Mc-Clellan has been a politician from the age of 8, when he was supposed to recite "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star" in a school exercise.
Instead, he astounded his Republican teacher by unloading a speech praising the Democrats.

His father put him up to it, the story goes, because the teacher had recently thrashed young John Roundly for a piece of mischief.
In their eyes no Arkansas Democrat could take a Republican licking like that.

McClellan talks little about himself, but he does say he after enjoys the battles of wits he has waged with some pretty smart witnesses and lawyers in the past, and looks forward to others. A naturally kindly man, he doesn't enjoy them all, when he sees an extenuating condition.

He was sure shot to head the current investigation of labor rackets from the day several Teamsters Union officials challenged the authority of the investigations subcommittee to question them.

A colleague says that McClellan had been none too sure he wanted to take on a fourth investigation — particularly one which would last probably more than a year. But on that day he decided that extra work might be worth while, and that if he were asked to head a new committee he would do so.

McClellan has been in headline news for years. He was a vigorous examiner in the Army-McCarthy hearings. He called the signals when, in 1953, when all other Democratic members quit the investigations subcommittee then headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). He has had exchanges with the White House in both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations over his investigations.

Sen. McClellan Claims He Is Country Lawyer

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A self-styled
"country lawyer" is in charge of a wide-ranging investigation of racketeering in the big cities.

That is one of the roles Sen.
John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) has found in Congress. A key figure in many a prior Senate probe, he now heads the special Senate Committee investigating alleged racketeering in labor unions and industry.

McClellan calls himself "a
country lawyer from Arkansas,"
and admits he likes his job as just
about the busiest senator-investi-
gator ever to sit on Congress.

Not many attorneys and none of
his colleagues is fooled much by
that self-deprecating "country lawyer" talk.

McClellan also heads the Sen-

Wrangle Over Segregation Commission

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A state senator who opposed another bill that favored the creation of a state sovereignty commission to study integration both in and out of the commission yesterday.

Li Gov. Nathan Gordon announced the appointments of Sen.
C. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs and Sen. Charles F. Smith of West Memphis. Smith sponsored a bill to form the commission and Hurst fought the measure.

The Senate approved 29-1 a $30-00 appropriation for the commission. Sen. Robert Harvey of Switton, who thought the amount too high, cast the dissenting vote.

A bill which would grant every teacher in Arkansas a $75 bonus before the general teacher salary raises go into effect next fall was approved by the Senate Gov. Orval Faubus said he will veto the measure.

The Republican Party in Arkansas would have to conduct primary elections to nominate its candidates to the Senate. The GOP prefers to avoid the expense of primaries for a comparatively small number of followers.

The Sovereignty Commission, which has broad investigative powers, will be headed by Gov. Orval Faubus, Borden and other top state officials.

After his appointment Hurst said
"As long as I am a member of the commission I will never be a party to any chamber proceedings or anything that would permit the Negroes to be mistreated."

Still to be named to the commission are three House members and three lay persons.

The bill creating the commission was one of four racial measures designed to delay or block integration. Faubus signed all of them this week.

The extra pay proposal for proposal for teachers was sponsored by Sen. Roy W. Milum of Harrison.

The bill on Republican primaries was sponsored by Sen. Guy H. Jones of Conway. Currently the GOP nominates candidates in convention.

The Senate passed 21 appropriations bills totaling $33,302,433.
They were earmarked mainly for payment on highway bonds, the University of Arkansas and the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

The House yesterday afternoon turned down a bill to revise the scale of unemployment benefits
after having passed another somewhat similar bill a week ago.

Boht bills had a section forbidding benefits to strikers, but objectors to the measure called up yesterday said it would not actually stop such payments.

By amending the measure to delete the enacting clause, the House killed an administration-backed bill to finance a Revenue Department building by increasing some fees charged for registration of automobiles and trucks.

Two bills to permit transfer of building grounds of the Girls Training School near Collegeville to the proposed Arkansas Children's Colony, if arrangements can be made to care for the training school inmates in other states, were passed without opposition.

Two conflicting bills were passed for disposal of farm lands of State Hospital, whose board wants to give up the institution's farming and dairy operations.

Both would provide for sale of
the lands, but under one a 1, 800-acre tract in Saline County
would be transferred to the Arkansas sites.

The Senate or the governor now
will have to decide which bill
comes law.

The compromise bill for distribution of highway revenues among
the High Department, the counties
and the cities was passed without opposition and sent to the Senate.
